special specification:

//Because the geotourist server kept crashing, after emailing the official website, calling customer service, and emailing my professor, all of which were to no avail, then even the official website wouldn't open, despite the fact that I'd already completed my homework using geotourist. I had to change the tool for the GPS implementation to the actionbound after comparing a number of software.

- Video Showcase

//Because of the time of the presentation and the large number of passers-by in the public area of the school, for privacy reasons, a combination of general description + segmented presentation was chosen instead of a complete video recording of the whole process.(The video is edited and multiplied speed)

Warm tips: the video app recording may have some harsh beeps, I hope you will not be scared!
